

4xtraDS - Dealing System

With the constant threat to profitability posed by unstable and volatile markets, the essential requirement for every front office dealer is an effective system to support deal capture, position management, online pricing and exposure control. Dealers require systems that give immediate access to information, provide maximum freedom and confidence to deal, whilst reducing the overall administrative and clerical burden.

4xtraDS is the front office treasury management system that delivers this vital combination. This latest edition of the popular 4xtraDS dealing system offers a real-time enterprise solution providing connectivity with industry standard databases and third-party systems. XML interfaces and web-enabled features are available.

4xtraDS consists of a series of integrated modules:

- Foreign Exchange
- Money Market
- Derivatives
- Exposure Control
- Arbitrage
- Executive Management Information
- Links to other systems
- Pricing Calculators

4xtraDS has proven capability

This product utilises the extensively developed and tested program code providing a high performance, reliable and robust system able to handle tens of thousands of deals per day with minimal operational support.

4xtraDS is a flexible solution

Underpinned by an integrated suite of development products and methods, 4xtraDS is built so that implementation requires the absolute minimum change to the business, and it can be tailored to respond to the inevitable changes in business activity and market climates.

4xtraDS improves trading room performance

Deals, entered into the system by direct dealer input or using third party deal capture systems; can be automatically passed to back office systems or industry standard databases for further processing.

4xtraDS provides the data needed to make informed and profitable decisions instantly.

Instant exposure monitoring allows the trader to check counterparty, currency and product limits. Sophisticated window displays give traders the ability to monitor and revalue positions continually, providing clear information about fluctuations in cash flow, exposure, liquidity, and arbitrage opportunities.
