SetMail – the Professional Answer

You might already have a web site, but are you aware that this enables you to have 200 email accounts with this domain name with no additional charges?

Having everyone using the same email addresses as your organization presents a unified, professional face to the outside world – and it couldn't be simpler to set-up:.

What SetMail Doesn't Need

- No Software – No need for Microsoft Exchange or any other server software.
- No Hardware – No need for a noisy, expensive server, taking up space and generating heat in your offices.
- No Learning Curve – Access your mailbox directly through an Inertnet Web-form and use standard Microsoft Outlook, or any other PC based email client that you prefer..
- No Complexity - If someone already has an established email address, the new email can be linked to that, giving ease of use and a common identity.

We handle all the steps required to run the service:

- Installation – We install our open source software suite on your web host (not in your office). This does not affect your existing site and means that you are not locked into a proprietary solution.
- Configuration – We create all the accounts you require and perform all maintenance, such as setting passwords, etc.
- Increased Security – all email accounts are equipped with centralised spam filtering software.
- Minimal Change – All that is required is for us to host your web site. This is simply because we cannot guarantee our system runs with your existing arrangements and we don't wish to charge for unnecessary alterations which might introduce errors into our stable software. We can manage your domain name for you as well for simplicity, or you can leave it with your existing service, it is not essential for us to do so when setting up the SetMail service.

The Professional Answer
